about my grampa, who died in 2001.

1. Can You Believe It

Can you believe it?
It's been a month.
I haven't talked to you
For a month!

I cried for days
After you left
But you didn't hear me
You were already gone

Can you believe it?
It's been a year.
I haven't seen you
For a year!

Today I went
To visit you
Something you always liked.
I stayed with you for a while.

I don't know if you saw me
It might be hard to tell
Who is visiting
From way up there.

Can you believe it?
It's been five years.
I haven't seen you smile
For five years.

You should have stayed
It was their fault.
That is what I told myself.
But I was wrong.

I hope that you're happy
Wherever the heck you are.
Remember that I'm waiting for you.
I miss you, Grampa.
