

Falling apart

By Zoriah

Submitted: August 27, 2006

Updated: October 24, 2006

Just one of many bad depressing poems I felt like writing...I'll be adding more too...hehe

1. Prisoner within

Falling Apart

I've done it again,

betrayed the one within.

I've lost the light,

I can't see the fight.

The struggle overburdened, just caved me in.

I've lost myself,

within my mind again.

Broken and bloodied,

I cry out in vain,

try to clear my vision,

get rid of this pain.

Nothing is working,

can't save me,

I'm beyond the line,

prisoner within my mind.

2. Sacrifice

Sacrifice

You say you aren't fighting, but I know what's going on,
inside I'm dying,
from the conversation carrying on.
You both continue like it's nothing, but it's killing me inside,
I love you both so much,
it hurts so much this time.
These words go back and forth, trying as hard as I might,
I cannot stop this carnage,
from killing me tonight.
So learn from your mistakes, and please get along,
so I may be the only soul,
to have died here and gone.