HISTORY:

A large company known as IBGEL were working on an experiment to create the ultimate warrior by taking the best attributes from many creatures throughout the universe. The early experiments were failure as the power of the creature itself tore it apart. They decided to split the attributes between three beings instead of one. The three were implanted with a piece of materia, each a different type. 1 summon, 1 magic and the black materia. The three were thusly codenamed Gaia Children as materia is born from Gaia itself.

Neo s embryo was placed in the womb of the Queen of the Planet Jurai, a well respected and loved monarch. An unseen side effect however came about because of this, the natural power of the Juraian monarchy was somehow ansorbed by the embryo and when Neo was born he had somehow a natural control over an ability that he should never be able to use.

Throughout most of his younger years Neo spent his time with a young girl named Lisa with whom he had fallen in love with. They went from planet to desolate planet and Neo would hunt down the various unintelligent lifeforms and kill them, once he had had his fill he would destroy the planet and return home. But on one fateful trip he came across a young man named Angelus on the planet Earth (his original homeworld). Neo used his special abilities to sense the power that Angelus (a fellow Gaia Child) had and challenged him to a fight. After a long arduous battle Neo decided to use his Planet Bomb (or Death Ball) attack and wipe out the planet completely. Angelus did the only thing he could think of at the time and retorted with a Final Flash attack. The Final Flash enveloped Neo and he was thus thought to be dead. Ten years later he awoke with amnesia, the only thing he could remember was the feel of Angelus ki energy. He hunted down Angelus and together they set off to return his memory.
