A poem which I made (that should scare you, haha)

1. The War

The War

Seeing the shade come closer
Darkness made its way
A neverending silence
Nothing else but grey

Sinking in the darkness
One roar to the light
Letting day disappear
In the eyes of night

Fields of nothing
No reason can be found
Far, vague shades
Falling to the ground

Shaded faces
Darkened eyes
No returning daylight
Just a wave of lies

No rejoining harmony
No relieving smiles
Nothing else but loneliness
Going there for miles

Looking into waterdrops
The reflection of what I see
Will this war ever end
In the inside of me?
