1. Forever Together

Forever Together.

By Shaun Mather with some parts from a year 8 friends Lindsay.

Sonic is in this story but his name is not said, he is the police man.

There was a body on the floor. Dead. Dead like a rotting animal being eaten by a vulture on a hot day at the desert. There was a woman talking to the police about the dead boy on the ground with the crimson coloured liquid flowing out from his chest where holes were like the holes in the ground made from a mole. The police found a note & the note said Forever Together .

The past

Seth was walking along the beach with his hair loose & free flying in the wind. He was a pale boy, clear white skin like the colour on fresh new paper. His hair was long with one of the most unusual colours. The colours were imperial purple & pink which shied in the sun with such grace & beauty. Seth was lonely at the beach ever since that day one year ago when his loved one Keith was brutally murdered.

Flashback

Wait for me Keith yelled Seth running after a older male with dark purple & crimson coloured hair like the colour of the dark ally in the city. Seth if you weren t so slow Keith replied with his usual tone of annoyance. Seth court up & lightly pecked Keith on the lips. Don t be cruel it s not nice Seth said with happiness in his voice. Seth & Keith have been together for two years now & were loving it, Seth could not be happier.

Lets go to a restaurant tonight Seth Keith said with a happy voice & smile. Seth however was surprised with what he said, after all Keith does not do this a lot&to be piracies he never does. Wow, this is a first Keith, why the change of heart? Seth asked knowing to well what the answer was acting like an all knowing person. I just want to take you out for tea is that a problem? Keith was annoyed now, but he did know this was coming, but what to do? He loved him no matter what.

Keith grabbed Seth into a locking hug, kissing him on the lips. Lets go, I booked a table for two at Florentinos Keith said walking up to the car. What! You got as a table their? Oh, my god Seth yelled with excitement running to the car like an exited school girl. I hope you enjoy your self Seth my love Keith said kissing Seth once more.

The Past

Seth fell on the hard wet sand beneath him. He loved Keith like his love for his life. Seth got up from the ground with shaky legs. His heart hurt it was like being stabbed one hundred times, but alas thinking this made him fall once again crying.

Flashback

Keith was wonderful he looked like a god to Seth. Seth was lost in his thoughts of Keith like falling into a mud pit & not being able to get out. I have to get something said Keith with a sound of happiness in his voice like he was an angel. Ok, I will wait here Seth said with a yell.

It had been thirty minuets since Keith left the car. Seth got out of the car & walked down the ally Keith walked down. Then Seth saw something two people in fact. OH, MY GOD KEITH! Seth yelled as he began to run like a cheater to reach his lover. When he arrived it was too late, Keith had been stabbed to death with the crimson like substance flowing out of him like water flowing down a stream. Seth I love you al&ways Keith said before he died with a black box in his hand. Seth realized Keith was going to propose.

The Past

At this Seth was crying like a waterfall with no end. Seth was sniffing trying to stand up which he managed to do after two tries. Seth started to walk back home to his house, their house, but he was walking like a drunk wobbling from side to side due to crying. Seth was fondling with the keys dropping them twice before finding the key to his house. He opened the door not bothering to close it behind him & walked into their room. Seth knew where Keith hides it just in case.

Seth went to the draw beside their bed & opened the draw to revel a gun which Seth picked up. Seth found a pen & paper on the kitchen counter & Seth wrote something. Seth was now lost in thought like his body was being controlled by someone else, but he didn t care, not anymore. Seth pulled the trigger pointing at his chest, then pulled it again & again falling to the cold ground Keith I love you al&.ways&.too then with this Seth died. A woman heard the gun fire & ran into the room & found a dead body. She screamed, called the cops & waited.

The Present

Forever Together the police man said confused at this. He looked at the boy lying limp on the cold hard floor like a lifeless doll. I think I know why he said closing the door behind him. I hope Seth & Keith are happy where they are now & with that the police man ghost-like, vanished.

The End
