i hated bridge to taraibithia's ending. so wrighters 4 disney u cant bite my big one!

1. end of the movie

Hello. You know me as funlover. And I didn't like the end to " Bridge to Terabithia " so I'm righting a new ending to it. One with a twist, that some of u might know, with a "fullmetal twist". So without further a dew; the end. Note*this takes place before Leslie die s but after she falls in. in my version Leslie doesn't die. Leslie wakes up in a field of green grass and hills. It was a cloudy day after the rain yesterday. She sat up but was bushed down with firm hand form behind on the shoulder. She yelped and jumped. "Ow! What was that for" a boy, no younger then her, was holding his chin where she hit him but she didn't feel it. "I - I-am sorry. You just scared me, she said trying to sound nice. " It fine, don't worry. But u needs to lay back now. You hit your head something bad." he told her. That s when she felt the lump in the side of her head." oh ow. It hurts." he just yawned. She started, but he interrupted "what s your name?" she stared blankly at him. " Leslie." she said extended with a smile on her face. They both stuck out there hand and shook. " Nice to meet u Leslie" he said, " You got a little angel look'en u." "I'm not a Christian." she giggled as if she thought it was a joke. " You might not believe in him but he believes in u." she just looked at him and smiled and shook her head in disagreement. "So where do u live? Around here?" he asked "YEA! I remembered that!" "Ok then lets go." he got up and brushed himself off and they left to go up stream. They were family far form the river so they retraced their steps. They founded the rope, that snapped, but she didn't remember anything bout where it came form. So they were just sitting there until she remembered, bout the fallen tree. In the movie they never said why the tree fell form what I can remember so they had to go back a ways cause they pasted it* "why were u even swinging there anyway?" he asked "she didn't want him to know about Terabithia so she just ignored it. he didn't say anything else about it, until they came to the tree. He stopped her and asked again but first saying "I DON'T like repeating myself" "fine. Ill tell u if Jess says it ok." "Whose Jess?" she turned and went the wrong way. After realizing she wasn't being fallowed stopped and returned to him then told him "a friend" she just smiled like she ever went that way. She looked almost at eyesight 'he was taller and she said "how did u know where to go?" they herd a Jess in the distance shouting Leslie's name "you better go. he said with a sad expression. She looked at him with a surprise. "Your coming!" she ordered. Jess poked his head out of the bushes. "OH MY GOD" he shouted running down the small hill tripping and almost hurting himself but the boy caught him. "WHO R U?" jess asked not quieting down "opps. I m sorry I never asked your name" Leslie says slightly making her self-sad. "Its fine. My name is Bobert nice to meet u 2. You must be jess." Bobert said looking at Jess feet to prince Terrien. He bent over to let the dog get a good sniff. Bobert just laughed. And looked up at jess "sorry I knew you were Jess. I love to joke, he said with a big smile. Whipping his hands on his shit and going for a handshake Jess just looks at Leslie and gave her a hug. "Your pirates are worried sick. They kept thinking the worst of the worst." Jess frantically said squeezing her tightly. He continued "its all my fault u almost died I m so sorry Leslie. I never meant to leave u alone. I m so sorry" he started crying. She just founded and hugged him back "OK THEN. my job is over" Bobert said with an interrupting tone. Leslie just took Bobert by the hand and looked at him, then Jess. "Jess, this is the person that saved Me." the 2 boys shook hand. "The nobler knight" she whispered in Jess's ear. He smiled back nodding. "What r u 2 going on about." "We need to get u home Leslie" Jess said ignoring Bobert. "Come on Bobert. As I said u you re coming to." Leslie said they all went down the road to Leslie's house. Her mom and dad staring at Jess who was the first one in like he had bad news, then Bobert came in that made them confused, and then a tried looking Leslie came in and then the family came together in tears and hugs. After awhile that s when Leslie broke out of the suffocating grip of her pirates she turned to Bobert and gave I m a look that said get rightly. "Mom, dad, this is Bobert" she paused to wipe away tears "he saved me" Jess didn't know why he was mad at Bobert but he was. "Your a hero kid. You saved my daughter" her father said half crying.

2. bridge to tarabithia 2

ok. ok. dont u think that was better? i do. well this is so far off it unbliveable but it better

it was that next day at school where they were just about to get in the school when Gary and Scott were waiting for them Scott started but pushing Jess "hey Jessica" he said looking at Jess coming form a low tone to a high one. Jess just looked down. bobert finaly got off the bus then called a out to Jess and Leslie. they stoped for him. Scott " bumped into" bobert, thinking he could nock him down landed flat on his ass. "grrr." Scott was faking being hert. "ow!!" he moned out laud. bobert just smiled and gave him his hand. Scott just roled over and whined even more. Gary looked at bobert "WAT DID U DO!" he yelled spiting slightly. Scott got up as bobert was pushed by Gary into Jess and Leslie. "ill get u for this newb kid" Scott said with a shocked look. bobert stomped his foot in intimidation. no one flinched but the 2 boy walked away laughing.

For the next hour Scott got madder and madder. bobert embarested the crap out of him. so he wanted to get back at lunch. bobert was sitting with Lislie ans Jess when Scott came over. "oh hello" bobert said looking at Scott and smiling. Scott just striared with angered eyes, that anyone could see were filled with rage. his hand rose twiching with an unworldedly speed as if to strike his aponent. he missed because bobert saw his intentions. "hey man. your asking for it!" bobert said aloud looking shocked. the vains in Scott hand and face started to pop. Scott said nothing. leslie got up to tell Scott off, but he hit her half way across the school grounds. "JESS GO HELP HER!" he realized wat was going on. he claped his hand and sparcs came out of the contacte nailed Scott in the head . Scott was unconshous and so was Leslie. bobert and Jess were both looking them. Jess started "what was that? what happened there?" bobert looked at the floor. "alchemy- is the basise of life use by the creator to make all living thing." he puased to took a breath "well in order to know what happened u must understand alchemy. its a long story. it will take a long to explain fully. but i think this will explain it." Jess looked in the drection of bobert. then bobert claped his hand like before and sparcks came out. jess thought that he was emajening thing the frist time. bobert landed his now red hot hands on the floor and the floor started lifting up in the shape of his hands leaving a repilica of his hands. Jess was totaly amazed. "i'm an expert in alchemy. he," bobert jesterd at Scott, "obsorbed by controll." "what" jess interuped. "obsorbed by controll is taking a sprit add alchemy and take controll of the person with the soul+alchemy inside. it adds stranth soulpower and u can cotroll the person by reaping the alright dead soul. thus scott." "and his strong arm?" Jess add "yep" Leslie rose as bobert finshed. "ow" leslie said rubing her arm. "i couldn't heal u all the way. alchemy only goes so far." Jess rose to go to her. "what did you say?" she asked. "nothing never mind" he replied. "are u ok?" Jess asked now siting by her. "i'm ok. i'll be fine. u don't have to worry." "well my knights in shinnying armor, what shall we do?" she asked with sarcasam. "your spine was cruched." bobert said with a blank face. bobert came for an orfenage and got alot of people killed cuase of alchemy. all of the odopive parents and sibling. "i leave. thats what." bobert said coldly "before the next strike i will leave" "strike?" leslie said with a puzled look. "alchemist killers. this guy is cuting though the alchemest population like butter and no one cares tough" he paused to colect himself. "i need a place to stay. far away form u. im so sorry but i have to go." Leslie looked at Jess and vicersa "tarabithia" Leslie said. "NO" Jess said with an extreemly loud voice. "its ok Leslie. I'll be just fine." bobert stood up to leave. "STOP!" bobert got a far away look. "my 3 brothers and mom and dad were killed an alchemist and my 2 sisrets were killed by alchemy when they tried to bring them back." he paused again. "im not letting that happen" "i want to help! cause u saved me." bobert looked back and spoke "you'll have to learn alchemy. i will teach u what u can do. three on one." bobert sank back to the chair that he was sitting in. "um not to sound like a square or anything but what or where is taraibithia?" they explained it to "him. i took a whail but they did it. "ok. let me see your drawings Jess" jess always had his pictures. so he showed them to bobert when he was done bobert asked "show me how big this one is" he pointed at a picture of one of the Sevogre bobert claped his hands and slamed it to the floor making a cube "that good size?" "oh yea!" Leslie and Jess shouted. "ok then" he claped again and slamed on the rock shaping to just the way they imagined it. he returned the stone how it was. "i can make that alive. but i need you to help on that one ok" "was that alchemy?" Leslie asked "yup" Jess replied. leslie got up and they left to tarabithia. And for 3 mouths they brought it all to life. but bobert knew he hadn't much time until who ever tried to kill him the frist came back. bumbumbuuuummm que evil theme music! muhahahaha

3. bridge to tarabithia 2 conti.

Wow that last one was kind-a boring but that not my fault. Well maybe. If this was a movie that probibly made up 10, maybe 20 minuets. Oh well. I m introducing alchemy more in this chapter. I think u will like this one if u likes alchemy. Keep in mind that alchemy is the manipulation of elements and flows. Alchemy is now been rejected by all scientist and now physics is now what most use and is the more logical. Chapter 3 it a few weeks later and Leslie and Jess have been greatly introduced to human alchemy = basic alchemy that anyone can do. But he has been animating earth-type tarabithianes for tarabithia and Bobert is getting nervous and an alchemist circles the town. Not sleeping, Bobert gets up for a glass of water. "Hi" came a voice form the next room. It was one of Jess's big sisters. "How are you?" Bobert wasn't supposes to be in the house but she knew him and that he had been sneaking in and out before. He smiled at her and looked to the door. "What are you doing here?" she asked "getting a glass" he said in replay " if I show you something cool will not tell anyone?" "Ok" she moaned. He looked at the candle on the table and walked over to it, he placed his middle and thumb fingers on the wick, and he looked at her. He stopped. And show her his hand to so she could see it wasn't a tick. He repeated putting his fingers on the wick. Sniping his fingers the wick flared up in a blaze. He blew it out in one poof. And show her his fingers again. "Explain it." he said. She just rolled her eye and said walking way "don t kill yourself going over that bridge. Your to cute to go like that." *PUN! * The next morning Jess got up early to talk alone to bobert they met at the bridge that Bobert and Leslie built a smaller pun for those to who don t get it the one who built the bridge weren't there. I declare this the worst pun ever Bobert looked as Jess approached watching him. "I ve got some more pictures, Jess said figuring he was in earshot. "Ok Jess but we can't talk now yet." bobert said in alarm. "Why?" "About 60miles up there s a eye. Don t looks! It can't see you. But that sill isn't good." bobert said not slowing down for Jess. Bobert changed the subject fast "you see Lucy I think her name is?" "She my sister focused but I wish I hadn't." Jess was trying to look up but not move his head. "I mean since last night?" Bobert said look at Jess and shaking his head in disagreement, as if to say 'don't try it.' "Why is there something I should know?" "Na. just never mind" they reached Leslie house. "I ll go get her ok, Jess said staring to run toward Leslie's house. She came out 2 minuets later after Jess knocked. They got on the bus and viewed Jess's new pictures. Until after launch the day was normal. Until bobert ran at full pace into the room where Jess and Leslie were just starting class. "I'M SORRY MRS. HINCKLE BUT I NEED TO BAROW TO LESLIE AND JESS FOR AWHAIL PLEASE!" he was obviously panicked by something. "Mr. Monagaham settle down and tell me why." *bobert set a barrier and a stone made of his alchemy. The barrier tells him someone is intruding and the stone is something that stored his alchemic powers to distract the enemy. Making them think the stone is him and vice-vice versa. * "NO! THE BARRIER HAS BEEN DESTRYED!" *the barrier= if some of = strength come in its cracks. But if someone with powers beyond the whole thing is destroyed and sometimes in the rare cases that it is absorbed the absorber must be 20 times stronger. * Jess looked at Leslie who was looking him all right. They stood up and ran to Bobert. "What should we do?" Leslie asked. "WHAT'S GOING NO YOU 3?" Mrs. Hinckley asked getting annoyed. "Ill meet up with this alchemist. And we will take him down!" Bobert said rising a fist. "You guys have to gather the tarabithianes." bobert said getting his composure. "Why is he after you?" Leslie asked. "Me and him are the last of our kind. Pure alchemist. If one of us die the other get all knowledge of and infinite alchemy." then Bobert looked at the class. Everyone was staring at him like he was insane. "Ok then. You can go." Jess said, "Ok lets go!"
