I wish my life was perfect...Chpt 1. A story by Bloodabeast

"I'm just a normal 15 year old kid who likes lots of things , but some of the things I like either creep people out or make em mad...

I like football hockey soccer and other things I wanna try ,like yoga for instance....maybe not.

I try to be as normal as I can but people still make fun of me cuz of what kind of clothes I wear how my hair looks or how I talk*sigh*....

I got held back in the 9th grade I'm really stupid aint I? I worked really hard on my tests but I still failed.

I'm used to it though 'cuz people consider me a fuck up a dumbass or just a plain failure.

That's it...I'm just a failure....

I hope you're happy mom and dad, that you have a failure in the family.....

I guess I will never amount to anything like my dad or my brother, what am I going to do with myself...

I just don't care...

I just don't care about anything now...

All I care about is escaping this world, leaving all the bastards here on earth to burn and die....

I wish my life was perfect..."
